

City Assessor's Ruling May Be Tested in Court

Tenants of City Question Official's Right to Compel Them to Go to City Offices to Take Affidavit Before Getting Their Names on Voters' List

The necessity of going to the city hall to make affidavit and register in accordance with the terms of the tenancy franchise, was discussed at the meeting of the trades and labor council last night. The regulation now being enforced whereby all must go to the city hall to register is proving a great inconvenience to many, and it was suggested that a commission for taking affidavits be secured at a meeting of the local unions for the purpose of securing in all who are eligible to vote under the tenant's franchise. This method will in all probability be tried and if its legality is questioned, a test case will be made of it.

Delegates were appointed to the trades and labor council on September 11th. The trades and labor convention will be held in Calgary at the same time and the delegates to this will be: R. G. Hay of the sheet metal workers' union; T. Clark of the painters' union and Joseph Atair of the printers' union.

The council placed themselves on record as being in favor of maintaining the city hospital as a municipal institution, and not by charitable efforts. The question came up in connection with a communication from the secretary of the hospital board suggesting that the trades and labor council send a delegate to a meeting of the board to be held for the purpose of arranging a hospital, to be held on Sunday at which collections would be taken in aid of the maintenance of the present city hospital. A. Farnio and one or two others took the stand that the communication should be filed and that the council give no support to the movement to assist the hospital by charitable means or by collections. It was pointed out that the pursuit of this course would hasten the time when the hospital would be supported by the municipality entirely, as it should be. The general opinion of the meeting was that the hospital should be a municipally supported institution but it was decided that instead of filing the communication a delegate should be appointed to attend the meeting of the hospital board to lay the views of the council before that body. Joseph Atair was appointed delegate.

Officers to take the place of the president and vice president of the council, both of whom have left the city, were elected at last night's meeting. The newly elected president is J. J. Liscom, of the Brotherhood of railway carmen and the new vice-president is G. W. Mosher of the brotherhood of carpenters. J. P. Burton former president of the council for Saskatoon recently to conduct organization work there.

A communication was read from Attorney General Mitchell stating that the city bill will not be ready for presentation at the next session of the legislature. The letter was in answer to one from the trades council asking that they might be given an opportunity to express their views on the bill before it becomes law.

RUTHERFORD BOOM GATHERS MOMENTUM

HON. A. C. RUTHERFORD, ex-Premier of Alberta, Who has Signified His Willingness to Contest the Edmonton Constituency in the Liberal Interests.

LOCAL LIBERALS ARE ANXIOUS FOR THE CONVENTION

Gathering on August 16 Will Be Biggest Witnessed in This City

PRIMARIES TO BE HELD IN ALL THE DISTRICTS

Estimated that Nearly 300 Delegates, from All Parts of District, Will Be in Attendance when the Convention Opens.

With the announcement of Hon. A. C. Rutherford's willingness to contest the Edmonton riding for the Dominion house there has been stirred up the greatest political interest which has been evident in Edmonton for many months and the indications today are for a most enthusiastic convention on the date set, August 16, when liberal delegates from all over the constituency will gather to endorse a candidate.

Some criticism has been heard against the short notice given of the convention, but the chairman explains this by saying that the shortness of the time between dissolution and election makes it impossible that any lengthy notice could be given. In the south the date of the conventions is set even earlier than in Edmonton. Great care is being taken, however, to get the notice out to all parts of the constituency in time to allow the primaries to name delegates and it is already practically assured that the convention will be the largest ever held in this riding and at the same time the most representative.

Mr. Rutherford's offer to become a candidate is hailed with delight by thousands of loyal liberals. In Edmonton he has always been particularly popular, and it is generally conceded that the Edmonton delegates will be almost unanimous in favor of his name before the convention.

In the farming country, and especially in that part of the country which Mr. Rutherford sought by his railway policy to open up, the ex-premier is a strong candidate, his long term in public office and his unimpeachable record for honesty of purpose and integrity having endeared him to the voters in the agricultural district, while his advanced railway policies have become a thing to conjure with among the homesteaders and settlers in the distant part of the constituency.

What the Oliver forces will do in the face of the convention is a matter of some doubt. The Bulletin greets the announcement with the declaration that the convention is not properly called, claiming, in effect, that Senator Talbot is the only party properly authorized to call a convention. Convention Properly Called To this P. E. Lessard, chairman of the Edmonton District Liberal association, and the

Large Sum in Taxes Involved in Appeals

Appellants Against Assessment Take Case Before District Court Judge—Judgement Is Reserved—Sum of Nearly $100,000 Is Involved in Action

Sirathona, Aug. 8.—It is now within the power of His Honor Judge Taylor to bring about a sudden decrease in Sirathona's assessment revenue for the present year. A court of appeal held here yesterday the applications of Messrs. Hulbert, McKernan and Douman to have their assessments lowered, involving a taxable sum of about $98,500 in acreage property, was heard by Judge Taylor and owing to certain test references from Mr. Mills, solicitor for the appellants, judgement was reserved until the cases cited could be looked up. The assessment of Mr. McKernan was advanced this year from farm land value of $100 to $200 per acre on 113 acres. Mr. Hulbert's assessment on 118 acres adjoining Mr. McKernan's on the north was raised from $100 to $200 per acre. Both contend that their property is still used as farm lands and is consequently only rateable as such, as designated in the agreement under which they consented to come into the municipal limits in 1907.

Judges Found Number Of First-Class Lawns

Large Number of Entries in Annual Competition and Judges Have Difficulty in Awarding Prizes—List of Those to Whom Prizes Were Awarded

Sirathona, Aug. 8.—Every indication this morning points to the second annual flower show which opens tomorrow evening, as a very significant success. The entries are numerous and are remarkably good. The list of prize winners to the committee, so that there seems little doubt that the two days' affair will be the best which has ever been held along horticultural lines in the district. Some of the exhibits are truly a revelation as to the year's progress in horticulture and in spite of the generally unfavorable weather some of the garden and floral products show a good state of advancement. The city band will be present at the exhibition hall both evenings of the show and there is every reason to believe that the patronage of citizens will be all that could be desired.

The judges of gardens and lawns for the special prizes took place yesterday afternoon as announced and the visit of the Judge, Mr. Baxter, of the government, who is in Edmonton, revealed a number of splendidly kept grounds about the city. He expressed last night his great pleasure at the real public spirit, and increasing taste and interest in horticultural work being shown by the citizens of Sirathona. President T. B. Morrow, of the Sirathona Horticultural Society, who acted as judge in the recent competitions for the best kept grounds in Edmonton, stated last evening after he had accompanied Mr. Baxter about the city, that no lawn in the Capital city which he had seen equaled the handsome grounds of Mr. J. E. Richards, government printer, at his home in this city on 425 Fifth avenue, N.E. garden of W. A. D. Passmore which received a prize was also highly commended. The list of prize winners in the special competitions yesterday are as below:

RUSHING WORK ON C.N.R. MAIN LINE

TWO TRAINLOADS OF LABORERS AND EQUIPMENT CAME THROUGH THE CITY THIS MORNING

More men and outfits are being swung in on construction work on the Canadian Northern main line west of Edmonton, in an effort to complete as much as possible of the 160 miles now under contract. The outfits of C. A. McDougall and J. Bradley, two contractors who have been at work during the early part of the summer at Last Mountain lake on a branch of the G.P.R. north of Regina, Saskatchewan, passed through the city yesterday morning, this morning. There were two trainloads of equipment including about 150 teams, with scrapers and graders. Two hundred men will be employed at these are coming with them from Saskatchewan.

FARMERS WILL NOT ENTER CANDIDATE

IN CONTEST FOR SEAT IN THE DOMINION HOUSE—ARE IN FAVOR OF RECIPROCITY

The farmers of the Edmonton constituency have decided to take no action, through their local unions of the United Farmers of Alberta, in the forthcoming federal election in this district. At their meeting in the exhibition offices yesterday afternoon it was decided to issue no advice to the members of the unions as to the manner in which their votes should be cast to secure the reforms which they seek. The suggestion that a farmers candidate should be run met with little support, and at the meeting of the directors yesterday it is understood that the subject was not mooted. Farmers of the constituency are unanimous in their support of the reciprocity pact, but the possibility of their having to choose between two Liberal candidates complicates the issue. That they will vote for reciprocity goes without saying, and the Conservative nominee will receive few, if any, of the farmer votes.

$69,350 Where Did It Come From?

The riot followed an attempt to arrest a score of the blacks who were amassing on the streets. During the encounter the police were hounded with bricks, stones and beer bottles from the windows and roofs of nearby tenement houses. The strike was hand to hand and the negroes outnumbered the police five to one, but the bluecoats used their night sticks generally with telling results.

Steel Trust Investigation Is Brought to a Standstill

Impasse Is Created by Refusal of Commissioner of Corporations to Divulge Information to House Committee Looking Into Corporation's Affairs

(International News Service)
(By Jonathan Winfield)
Washington, August 8.—Democratic members of the house are beginning to consider a plan for an amendment to the existing law which provides that the commissioner of corporations, clothed with authority to hunt down the trusts, shall make a report only to the president and that the facts collected by the commissioner shall not be available for use of congress unless the president so wills.

The house committee investigating the steel trust has run up against this snag, and, greatly to the disgust of the committee, it has been impossible to extract any information of value from Herbert Knox Smith, who as commissioner of corporations, has been busy for several years presiding in an investigation of the trusts and large corporations of the country.

Construction of Law Absurd
"Such a construction of the law is an utter absurdity," said Representative Martin Littleton, a member of the steel investigation committee. "It is preposterous to think that a co-ordinate branch of this government has in its possession information needed by another branch, and that we are to be denied access to the records."

Commissioner Smith, however, remained firm in his refusal to tell the house committee anything about the steel trust except what he had printed in his preliminary report. The committee even refused to furnish the information upon which he had based his report, and he could offer the house investigators no aid whatever "unless the president gives his consent."

The law creating the bureau of corporations provided that the commissioner should have authority to prohibit any corporation believed to be a possible monopoly in restraint of trade. He was given the power to demand the production of books, documents and cost sheets, and the commissioner's word is presumed to be an open sesame to the inner workings of any trust in the United States.

Investigation Lasted Several Years
The commissioner "investigated" for several years the affairs of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries. "The Stanley committee of the house recently was authorized to conduct a sweeping investigation of its own, and after it had proceeded into the subject for several weeks, Commissioner Smith was asked to aid the committee in order that it might not take the back track over some of the ground already gone over by the authorized government agent."

Mr. Smith appeared before the committee, but he told it little. His non-committal answers exasperated the members so that it was stated that the law must be changed.

tee were again emphasized when it attempted to show through the previous investigation of the commissioner of corporations that the International Harvester company, and the steel trust are virtually the same, and the same group of financiers are behind both concerns. Commissioner Smith again called before the committee, but it extracted nothing from him except that he would talk the matter over with the president, and that if the latter did not object he would furnish the committee with such evidence as the bureau of corporations might have upon the subject.

Commissioner Smith admitted that the bureau had been investigating the International Harvester company and that it had in its possession considerable information, but once more he was firm in his stand that he could give none of the data desired by the committee. The attorney-general had held, said Mr. Smith, in exercise of his action, that this confidential information is only for the eyes of the president and that it must not be made public even at the request of a co-ordinate branch of the government, unless the president avers his consent.

Law May Be Changed
Unless the information desired by the house investigators is forthcoming, the law governing the bureau of corporations probably will be changed at the next session, so that the data collected by the commissioner shall be available for the use of congress in the event that either branch of congress has need for it.

Children's Aid Society Handled Many Cases During Month of July

Report Indicates Nature of the Rescue Work Carried Out by the Edmonton Society—Many Contributions Are Gratefully Received by Matron

The report of the agent of the Children's Aid society for the month of July would indicate that there has been a very busy time for both the local officers and for the people of the shelter. Six cases of child neglect were investigated, and six children made over to the care of the local department.

In addition to this, eighteen complaints of misdemeanors were investigated, which included six cases of stealing, the balance being for mischief, such as breaking of windows and other minor matters. The total number of cases dealt with by the local agent during the month were 24. The pool rooms, bowling alleys and other places in which children are employed were also visited during the month. No complaints were lodged against any of the billiard or pool rooms and places in which children are employed; they were all found to be in a sanitary and satisfactory condition.

The report of the matron at the Shelter shows that during the month 72 children were dealt with. Of this number, 18 were new admissions during the month of July. Six children were returned to parents or relatives, nine children were adopted into foster homes, one child was sent to the hospital for sickness. Of the number of children dealt with during the month, 14 belonged to the municipalities of Edmonton or Strathcona. The matron reports that the sleeping accommodations at the shelter are taxed to their utmost and that unless the new shelter is in condition to be occupied that it will be most difficult to do the work which is called upon to do during the coming winter. The matron of the shelter would like to express thanks for the following donations: Parcel of clothing from 113 Clara street; parcel of clothing from Mrs. Wallbridge, Victoria avenue; parcel of clothing from Mrs. Stevens, Edmonton; parcel of clothing from Third street, Strathcona; kindling wood from Melius Lumber company; fruit from Mrs. Cassman; parcel of clothing from Mrs. Leboan.

In addition to the number of children who have been taken care of in the local shelter, arrangements have been made for the care of a number of girls in the Buttevant girls' home, also in the Buttevant girls' home, also in the Buttevant home, these two institutions having acted as an overflow department for the neglected children of the city and district of Edmonton. Plans for the new shelter have been received and appear to be entirely satisfactory. These, it is hoped, will be submitted to the council in the very near future and work commenced immediately on the children's shelter building, which is so badly needed in the city.

Bell won the last game for the Eskimos last night by knocking out a home run in the last half of the eighth making a total of four runs for Edmonton. Immediately after the run was scored, Umpire Langenbach ruled the game on account of the darkness. Outside of the home run the game was without incident for most of the night, though the feeding was fairly good in spite of several errors all of which were on the Edmonton team. Bell at first stop made a number of sensational stops.

A muddy diamond and slippery outfield made good work difficult, but the game was of the kind that keeps the fans interested all the time in spite of cold and rain. The threatening appearance of the sky made the attendance much smaller than it should have been. Henrich started the game poorly but improved all the way through. The Eskimos gathered seven hits off him, four of them being made in the first inning. Pich had his rabbit's foot with him. He allowed but five hits among the game, although he walked four.

Both catchers were a little off their throwing-bring poor. Three batters were struck on Guster, but Shelt did not allow any.

Two of Brandon's runs were scored on errors. Rose covered on Dodley's failure to take the ball and Holmes scoring on a bad throw by Shelt which went to the outfield, then occurred in the third inning.

Mills drew a walk right at the start but tried to take two bases on Mackin's sacrifice. He died. Whisman swatted for two. Van Dine singled. Bell singled and Dodley singled, and three runs crossed the rubber.

In the eighth Bell swatted the pill to the far left field and came home. It was a clean run home.

Summary: Two-base hits, Whisman; home run, Bell; first on balls, off Pich 7, off Brocker 4; struck out by Pich 7, by Brocker 4; left on base, Edmonton 7, Brandon 3; double play, Holmes to Mackin to Holmes; wild pitch, Brocker; passed ball, Shelt; stolen bases, Davis, Mackin, Whisman, Dodley; sacrifice hits, Mackin, Shelt; 2 time game, 2:10. ## BAD WEATHER SPOILS RACES AT REGINA

Regina, Aug. 7.—Up to noon today it looked as though today, set apart as Labor Day in connection with the Dominion fair, would see large crowds present at the exhibition grounds. Crowded excursions came in early from Swift Current, Moose Jaw and Arcadia, while the regular trains all arrived crowded with visitors, and many from the surrounding districts drove in. Shortly after noon, however, a heavy rain fell and continued for the rest of the day, putting an effective damper on the day's proceedings. Many despite the unfavorable conditions, bravely took themselves to the exhibition grounds, braving the rain, and many of the beautiful which adorned any animal treading the Grand Circuit, will be preserved and made into a permanent record.

Harry A. Moorman, of the Kent Scientific museum for her owner, R. G. Macdonald, the millionaire furman, of Winnipeg.

How and when the mare suffered the injury which caused her death has not been definitely determined. Owner Macdonald is about one-third her value, it was said.

That no one was hurt was fortunate. Though the drivers were very cautious, it was hard to negotiate the corners and the race, which took place on a track and the distance covered, 35 miles, was a fine performance considering the conditions.

Corinthians Defeated
Toronto, Ont., Aug. 8.—The famous Corinthians were defeated yesterday afternoon at Rosedale by a picked team from Toronto and district, the score being 3 to 1. The exceptionally hot weather affected the visitors, while several of their players, notably Roche, their star forward, were out of condition.

The Georgetown have been well received here, having been given an official meeting by the mayor and aldermen, and entertained by various persons, while they have proven very popular with the crowds, who are well pleased with their experiences in the east, and are looking forward with interest to their visit to the west.

Death of Penisa Maid

The death of the great racing animal Penisa Maid which died a week or more ago, is the result of one of the grandest pieces of horse flesh that ever stepped. The following is taken from the Grand Rapids Herald, July 30, 1911.

A pathetic scene was enacted yesterday afternoon at Comstock Park, when Penisa Maid, most beautiful and most promising of trotting mares, was buried deep in the infield of the track oval.

Trainers and ordinary unemotional stable swipes sobbed unfeignedly, and track dignitaries turned and choked in their throats as $25,000 worth of horseflesh was consigned to earth.

The death of Penisa Maid, whose record stood at 2:04 1/2, occurred in her stall at the park shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning. An autopsy by Dr. Robert Miller established the fact that compound fracture of the pelvis bone had ruptured a blood vessel, resulting in hemorrhages, which caused death. Growsome souvenirs of the occasion were eagerly grabbed off by the small group of sincere mourners at the graveside.

Presiding judge Keating secured one of the mare's well worn shoes and A. G. Radlax, of the New York Telegram, took one of the mare's best hooves which ever stepped on the tracks. The head, said by track officials to be the most beautiful which adorned any animal treading the Grand Circuit, will be preserved and made into a permanent record.

How and when the mare suffered the injury which caused her death has not been definitely determined. Owner Macdonald is about one-third her value, it was said.

That no one was hurt was fortunate. Though the drivers were very cautious, it was hard to negotiate the corners and the race, which took place on a track and the distance covered, 35 miles, was a fine performance considering the conditions.

FIRST CHARITY SHIELD GAME PLAYED

Playing before a crowd of fairly good proportions the St. George's won from Norwood by a score of three to two. The last goal was scored after the 10th minute, as to be almost impossible to see where the ball went and Norwood claim that the third goal was not scored. The Saints claim the goal and it was too dark for the spectators to see for themselves whether or not it was scored. The ground was in horrible condition and the playing was of a poor quality.

Vancover Will Take Minto Cup
Vancover, B.C., Aug. 7.—The Minto Cup, emblematic of Canadian lacrosse, was awarded to Vancover by the decisive defeat which Con Jones administered to New Westminster champions winning by a score of 7 to 1.

Vancover annexed to health care of the league series of ten games of which they have won five to New Westminster's three. Even if the Royal City champions win the next two games, Vancover will have won the Minto Cup on their own merits, which in the past, they have seemed invincible. Vancover would still be a favorite for the series, and a battle royal for extra game. Today's match was again fast and fairly clean up to the closing moments of the game, when Vancover had four goals to St. George's two.

Allen seems unlikely after today's game, playing defense for Vancover, and laying out his opponent. The game was a close one, the first half was a low-scoring affair, and the second half was a high-scoring one. Vancover's defense was a home battle in with extra determination and the defense checking very well. Vancover's seven goals, and Fitzgerald, who scored two, were today's stars playing as fast, brilliant and clean because as ever has been seen on the coast.

Vancover's four goals, led the Royals in brilliant work today. For the weather conditions were ideal, the attendance was the poorest of the series, not exceeding 3,000 people.
